Three Kish Bankers Complete PA Bankers Association's Advanced School of Banking

STATE COLLEGE, PA – August 31, 2018 – Three Kish Bank employees—Jackson McDonald, AVP, Credit Analyst Manager; Seth Napikoski, AVP, Commercial Relationship Manager; and Lindsey Swigart, AVP, Bank Support Manager—recently completed coursework at the 2018 Pennsylvania Bankers Association (PA Bankers) Advanced School of Banking, July 29–Aug. 3, at the Penn Stater Conference Center in State College.

McDonald has served the banking industry for seven years, and has been with Kish since 2012. In his position as Credit Analyst Manager, McDonald oversees the underwriting workflow for commercial loan applications, ongoing financial analysis of existing commercial relationships, and all training for credit analysts.

Napikoski has served the banking industry for over seven years, joining Kish in 2011. In his position as Commercial Relationship Manager, Napikoski provides business banking services and helps businesses raise capital, mitigate risk, and hedge success.

Swigart has served the banking industry for 17 years, and has been with Kish since 2013. In her position as Bank Support Manager, Swigart oversees the Kish Bank Service Support team, supports the Bank's business solutions, serves as a liaison between business clients and relationship managers for ongoing maintenance and needs identification, and assists with Kish's new hire development program and the onboarding of new sales personnel.

Gregory T. Hayes, President and Chief Operating Officer of Kish Bank, also served as a class advisor for the Advanced School of Banking.

PA Bankers' Advanced School of Banking is a three-year program that teaches financial services knowledge and skills and paves the road for participants to become leaders at any level within their organization. The curriculum provides a greater understanding of the multiple banking disciplines and how those disciplines work together within the bank. It is analogous to 200-, 300- and 400-level college course study.

The Pennsylvania Bankers Association, located in Harrisburg, is the state's leading banking trade association representing an expansive and diverse membership. The association offers extensive continuing education programs, government relations representation on behalf of the industry, and provides numerous products and services for banks and their employees.
